STILL IT'S RUPPERT.

He Yet Leads "The Evening World's" Rational Guard Election.

Lieut.-Col. Moran, of the 69th Regiment, Second Again.

Capt. Wilson and Major Kipp Holding Third and Fourth Positions,

The leader in THE EVENING WORLD'S National Guard election is still Col. Ruppart, who has polled to date 51,167 votes. Lieut.-Col. Moran has sourced again, and now looms up in second place with 41,936 votes to his crodit.

Capt. Wilson is third with 41,616, and Major Kipp a close fourth with 41,234. The contest for the sword will close I nes-day, Dec. 26, and no ballots received after that date will be counted. This will virtually be a splendid Christmas present for the winner, although the sword, of course, will not be made until it is known whether the winner is a staff or line officer.

not be made until it is known whether the winner is a staff or line officer.

The sword which the successful candidate will receive is to be a most magnificent affair. In the stat place, it is to be made upon an entirely new design, richly ornamented, and of the best material to be obtained.

The blade will be of the finest Damascus steel. The handle and quard will be of brass of special designs, Turnished and handchased, os will also be the mountings upon the scabbard, which will be of steel and nickelplated. The grip will be either of shark-skin or of embossed metal, silver-plated and burnished, the design depending on the rank of the concer receiving it.

The shape of the blade will also depend upon the rank of the turnier; if he is a line officer it will be straight, and if a staff officer it will be a sabre and curved in form.

A medallion mounting of burnished and handchased metal on the upper part of the scabbard will be inscribed with the name of the winner, with his rank and regiment.

The sword will be manufactured by B. M. Whitlock, of 90 Fourth avenue, the well-known maker of military equipments, and this announcement of itself guarantees the best of materials and workmanship.

ROBBED THE POOR.

"Doc" Warren's Crooked Career Ended by Inspector Byrnes.

Inspector Byrnes has in his cuetody a man whom he believes to be the meanest swindler

Onwecerd."
He is J. J. Carter, alias "Doc" Warren, and his victims are men looking for employment, who have a few hundred dollars stowed away, frequently the product of years of toil. For a year-or more past advertisements have appeared in the papers calling for "a helper at expositions South and West" at a salory of $50 a week and expenses, the applicant to furnish a guarantee deposit of from $150 to $200. Those who responded were met by an oilyngued individual, who directed them to meet him at some hotel in Jersey City or meet him at some hotel in Jersey City or some other town, where contracts were drawn up and the money paid over.

Then the "helper," who understood his new business to be to carry samples of goods to county fairs, was started to Philadelphia, and there met by a coulederste of the man at this end, who sent him on to St. Louis, or some other far. Western town, generally as far as his money would carry him, so that he might be effectually stranded.

The scheme worked to a charm. The deluded victims were seldem seen here again, although they were frequently heard from by inquiries through the police of the western towns, as to the pretended "employer."

by inquiries through the pointed of the western towns, as to the pretended "employer."

Recently, however, one came back to make trouble. He was Charles J. Nash, of bliack lock, Conn., and had met "Doc" Warren at Leggett's Hotel, paid $200 and gone to St. Louis, 2 Fortunately he had kept back a sum large enough to take him home again, and he showed up promplly on discovering the fraud. He told his story to Inspector Byrnes, and the Chief's men. Aloncle and Cottrell, arrested Carter last night in Greenwich avenue. Nash identified him at sight. Another complainant has been found in Frederick Boyer, of 481½ willoughby avenue. Brooklyn. He, too, was robbed of $700.

Carter has been punished in Missouri and Southern California, as well as in Philadelphia, for this sort of swindling, the police sav. He will be arrangued at the Tombs to-day.

The Etruria Mikes the Eastward Yoyage in 6 Days 45 Minutes.

A cable despatch to the Cunard line from London to-day, stated that the Etruria passed Brow Head at 1 P. M. to-day, after a remarkably tast voyage. She left this port for Liverpool on Sping-day, and her time is computed as 6 days 45 his beats all the Etruria's former records and is wonderful time for an eastward trip.

The Etruria's best record until t -day was 6 days 1 hour 55 mitutes, made in June, 1888. This was for a westward trip.

The fastest eastward trip made heretofore by the Etruria was 6 days 4 hours 40 minutes, in April 1888.

Rheumatism

Is believed to be caused by excess of factic acid in the blood, owing to the failure of the kidneys and liver to properly remove it. The acid attacks the fibrous tissues, particularly in the joints, and causes the local manifestations of the disease pains and aches in the back and shoulders and in parties and use the knees, and a snounders and us the joints at the knees, ankles, hips and wrists. Thousands of people have tound in Hood's Saresparilla a positive and permanent cure for rheumation. This medicine, by its purifying and vitalizing action, neutralizes the acidity of the blood and also builds up the whole body.

Sixth Avenue, cor 12th St. THE "HUMAN CORKSCREW" DEAD.

A Well Known Museum Freak Carried Off by Heart Fallure.

The "human corkserew," whose lithograph portrait has been the marvel of New York's juvenile mind and whose guaried little person has been a museum attraction for years, is dead.

His name was Walter H. Drew and he died at the Pennsylvania Hotel, West street, yesterday of heart failure. He was twenty-seven years old and was born in Bangor, where his mother keeps a public house.

Drew was first advertised as the "Spiral Spinal Column Man," and his pictures represented him with a body wound into a spiral coil.

represented him with a body wound into a spiral coil.

He had long, siender arms and very short legs, and was a skeleton and a dwarf at the same time, weighing but sixty pounds. He was very nimble and expert with his feet and could play a double tation on a drum with his toes, so he advertised himself as "the Nimble-toed Corkscrew Man."

His spinal column apparently began at the right shoulder, went directly towards the left hip, and then takes a sudden turn in the opposite direction, ended in the small of the back, making a letter S.

Drew was mentally very active. His professional story was that his father was a Confederate Colonel, who was shot and horribly mangled in a battle. His mother saw him killed, and the sight produced a gnarled child. Coroner's Physician Dr. Weston will hold an autopsy, and then the body will be sent to Bangor.

EXAMINATIONS DON'T HURT THEM

An Association That Thrives Under the Most Searching Investiga-It would naturally be supposed that some time or other there would be an end to the number of official examinations by insurance departments, experts, actuaries and accountants into the affairs of the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association.

It is also a question as to just what the Association's rivals expect to make by causing so many of these examinations, and yet the Mutual Reserve seems to care very little about these little matters, and it is little wonder, for from every examination the Association emerges with flying colors.

The Mutual Reserve has just been pronounced by the Insurance Department of the State of West Virginia sound, soint and entitled to the fullest public confidence.

The Department has arrived at this conclusion after a thorough examination of the Mutual Reserve's assets, books, system and accounts.

Another feather in the Mutual Reserve's number of official examinations by insur-

Mutual Reserve's assets, books, system and accounts.

Another feather in the Mutual Reserve's one is the able opinion of the well-known lawyer, Mr. Aibert Reynaud, of 70 Winjam street, who says in a letter to President E. B. Harcer, of 48 Park Row, that he was led to examine into one feature of the Mutual Reserve's organization while professionally employed in a small controversy against the Association.

Mr. Reynand is enthusiastic over the Association's organization, which he declares is as exceptional as it is excellent.

The feature that he calls special attention to is the "double cleck" system upon individual discretion, which the Association has sought and carried out. "To illustrate, the Reserve Fund is invested, not at the discretion or carrice of the Association sione, but subject to the additional indement of a Trust Company, in whose hands the money is denosited in trust for the policy-holders.
